Why buy goMobi?

Mobile is where your visitors are

There are 4 billion mobile phones in active use worldwide: 4 times more than PCs. In 2009, mobile web usage increased 148% globally (Source: Quantcast) and the numbers continue to rise. In fact, by the end of 2013, customers using the mobile web are projected to grow to 1 billion.

Optimised for the mobile internet

A goMobi mobile site extends the reach of your business to the mobile Web, allowing you to provide your mobile visitors a fast and easy way to learn about your business and contact you with one click. While your existing web site is aimed at giving a full and comprehensive picture of your business, a goMobi mobile site allows you to deliver immediate access to what matters most when on the go. The two sites are complimentary and work together to make sure your customers are getting the most appropriate experience for their context and their device.

Increase user satisfaction

Studies show that visitors who access a full web site on their mobile phones complain about how much time and data is required to load the site and how hard it is to find the information they need. Most of these customers abandon such sites quickly out of frustration and are unlikely to return and, worse yet, look for a competitor with a more mobile-friendly site.

Quick & Easy to get started

The goMobi Setup Assistant provides a quick and intuitive interface to customize your goMobi site. You can add features and adjust the look and feel as desired.

The intent behind its design is to act as a wizard for first time users - guiding you quickly and easily through the process - and yet offer a rich set of capabilities that can be accessed as needed for more advanced or experienced users.

The underlying goMobi infrastructure manages the complexities of ensuring that the experience is optimized across all mobile phones. This leaves you to focus on what content, communications, or interactions are most important for their customers.
